DENOUNCES PEARY AND PRAISES COOK

Governor of Georgia Refuses to Introduce Explorer.

Atlanta, March 15.—After flatly refusing to introduce Commander Robert E. Peary, who lectures here to-morrow night, Gov. Joseph M. Brown gave out an interview in which he denounced Peary as the faker and defended Dr. Cook, Gov. Brown said: "What proof does Peary bring save his own word? Cook brings the same and as good. If Cook has sold us a gold brick, Peary has handed a paste diamond."

"It is up to Peary to explain how Cook's story can be false and his identical story can be true. The American people will not accept his smile as proof that he is not as great a faker as he charges Cook to be. Peary and Cook tell the same stories about finding the pole and, like the Siamese twins, they live together or die together. You might as well say that Chank was a Chinese and Eng was an Englishman as to say that Cook's story is false and Peary's true."

"Peary's selfishness has disgusted the country. I am glad Congress has refused honors to Peary. To do so would put government approval upon a transparent fraud—a fraud in that while denouncing Cook's story as false, we are asked to stamp Peary's story as truth and laud Peary for doing only what Cook had already done."

COPENHAGEN GIVES EGAN HEARTY WELCOME.

Copenhagen, March 15.—Maurice F. Egan, the United States Minister, returned this evening from a visit to America. He was given an enthusiastic reception by a large gathering of friends. The steamer on which he traveled called at Christiania yesterday and Mr. Egan consulted with Herbert H. Peirce, the American Minister to Norway, as to the details of Col. Roosevelt's visit to Christiania early in May, when he will deliver his Nobel prize speech in that city.

Col. Roosevelt has invited Mr. and Mrs. Egan to meet him in Berlin and to journey with him to Christiania.

Owing to his many engagements, Col. Roosevelt will not visit either Copenhagen or Stockholm.

PEARY AGAIN SNUBBED.

Congress Committee Decline Reward Until Proofs Are Presented.

For the first time since the introduction in Congress of the various bills to reward Civil Engineer Peary for his discovery of the north pole, the House Committee on Naval Affairs had a chance yesterday to go on record on the proposition. The result was particularly discouraging to Mr. Peary's friends and admirers.

The committee unanimously turned down a motion by Representative Englebright, of California, who thinks Peary should be well rewarded by the government, proofs or no proofs; that the subcommittee which has been considering the reward bills be discharged, and the full committee report out one of the measures.

With equal unanimity, the committee adopted a motion by another member, instructing the subcommittee to continue its consideration of the case. This simply means that the full committee has approved the decision of the subcommittee that Peary shall not be rewarded until he presents to Congress all his original data. This he has already refused to do.

FIGURES CHANGED TO CONVICT ALLOS

Handwriting Expert Tells of Moe's Check Stub.

INSERT ALBANY MATTER

Declares Microscope Shows that Writing Is New.

Hearing in New York Senate Over Bridge Bribery Takes Sensational Turn When Defense Introduces Albert H. Hamilton, Whose Testimony, If Not Impeached, May Stir Up a Surprising Conspiracy.

Albany, March 15.—Interest in the Allos trial was revived today when counsel for Allos put a handwriting expert on the stand, who testified that the check and the two drafts connected with the distribution of the $6,000 fund in Albany had been put through an acid, and the check stub and draft book altered. Deacon Moe testified he drew a check for $6,000, for which he got two $3,000 New York drafts and $600 in cash at the Morton Bank before he started for Albany at the close of the session in 1901 with his bribe fund. As offered in evidence the check stub read:

No. 24, April 22, 1901.
To H. G. Moe.
Four (Dfts.) on New York, $6,000.
Cash, $600.
Albany matter.
Bridge Company.

The handwriting expert was Albert H. Hamilton, of Auburn, who said he was a chemist and microscopist, and had practiced as such in the courts for the past twenty-five years.

"I examined this check stub," testified Mr. Hamilton, "and I find that the 'S' on the abbreviation 'Dfts.' and the '$6,000' and the 'Cash $600' and the 'Albany matter' were written on the check stub within the last six months. I also discovered that the 'Amount of check' item was originally written $6,000, and that the first cipher in the $6,500, as it appears now on the check, had been changed to '5.'"

According to Mr. Hamilton's testimony, this stub, as written by Moe on April 22, 1901, read as follows:

No. 24, April 22, 1901.
To H. G. Moe.
Four (Dfts.) on New York, $6,000.
Cash, $600.
Albany matter.
Bridge Company.

Mr. Hamilton explained the methods employed by him to reach these conclusions, and he declared that the changes in the Moe check stubs, as indicated, were of recent origin, while the tests showed that the check stub, as originally written by Moe, had been written between five and ten years ago, nearer ten than five.

Draft Book Doctored.
"I examined the Groton Bank draft book," further testified Hamilton, "and I discovered that it indicated two $3,000 drafts had been issued to Moe, but that the second draft had originally been entered at $3,500, and the '5' afterward changed to cipher, making it read $3,000. This last alteration was made by scratching out the five and substituting the cipher instead of having been changed chemically."

Mr. Littleton declared to-night that the stub and check had been originally drawn for the business purpose of the Groton Bridge Company, and that the alterations indicated that they had been made with a view of connecting them with the 1901 bridge fund, which Moe says he distributed to Nixon, Barnett, and Allos.

Evidence Against Defense.
The prosecution brought out what they considered was one of the finds of the investigation when they showed that Allos, while Senator, had acted as attorney for the Albany Argus Company in its claim against the State for $3,706. This claim was filed in 1908, and the award was made in the spring of 1909 for $21,500, the case having been compromised without a trial. The claim was for State printing.

George T. Kelley, an Albany attorney, was associated with Allos, and the firm of Allos & Pollett had done legal work in connection with this claim. Senator Allos' bank account in May, 1909, showed a deposit of $4,200, and it was this item that led to Mr. Osborne's discovery of the Argus claim. Mr. Osborne's questioning brought out the fact from Senator Allos that this $4,200 was part of the fee he got from the Argus litigation.

Senator Allos testified that he and Mr. Kelley got a fee of $8,000, of which Senator Allos retained about $5,500, and that his fee was paid to him in cash by Edward Murphy, the son of former United States Senator Edward Murphy, Jr., of Troy, who is vice president of the Argus company. Mr. Osborne asked Senator Allos a score of questions, with a view of having him admit that he should not, with propriety, be interested in legislation which would help litigation in which he was concerned, that he really had not been employed for legal services, but because of his personal influence in the legislature and the Court of Claims, and that, as a matter of fact, his name did not anywhere appear as attorney of record in the case, nor had he, as a matter of fact, done any legal work in connection with it.

FIRST BATTERY INSPECTED.
Capt. Fox's Charges Make Showing in Annual Drill.

Capt. Morris E. Locke, Third United States Field Artillery, and Maj. Leroy W. Herron, Inspector general, District of Columbia National Guard, made the annual inspection of the First Battery, Field Artillery, D. C. N. G., last night at the battery headquarters.

The battery, commanded by Capt. Charles J. Fox, made an excellent showing. Out of a company of ninety-eight, only four were absent. Officers in command are First Lieut. Edward M. Nevela, First Lieut. Harry Sherman, and Second Lieut. Louis C. Vogt.

Private E. H. Hoffman was attacked by a fainting spell and had to be carried off the floor. To-night Companies I, K, L, and M, Third Battalion, Second Infantry, will undergo the annual inspection by Maj. Faison, of the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry, at Center Market Armory. The companies will be commanded by Capt. Walker, Ernest, O'Halloran, and Galbraith.

WESTON AFOOT AGAIN.

Sickness Fails to Deter Aged Pedestrian on Way from Coast.

Great Bend, Kans., March 15.—Edward Payson Weston, the pedestrian, arrived here to-night at 9:05 o'clock. He covered nearly his scheduled distance today in spite of the fact that he lost several hours this morning on account of sickness. He came in at a fast gait and did not appear to be at all fatigued.

At Larned he rested a couple of hours and then made the trip to Great Bend without a stop, covering thirty-six miles for the day's journey.

He will leave here in the morning at 4 o'clock and expects to reach Hutchinson, fifty-two miles east, where he will spend the night.

PLOT ON WOODRUFF HINTED

Friends Believe Effort Will Be Made to Oust Him.

Griscum Issues Statement Asking Organization to Uphold Senator Cobb and Trust His Promises.

New York, March 15.—The Woodruff-Barnes combination of Republicans in the State of New York believe that a movement is under way in Washington and Albany to retire, if possible, Timothy L. Woodruff, as chairman of the State committee before the State convention is held next fall. They do not believe that Sunday's conference with Senator Root in New York City settled anything definitely. The foregoing statements were made at Republican State headquarters in this city today.

With Chairman Woodruff supported at present by a majority of the State committee, so the Woodruffites claim, the only way that Woodruff can be retired as head of the committee is by turning this majority against him, and the only way this can be accomplished is by inducing the assembly district leaders and members of the State committee who hold political places under city, State, and national government to turn against him and see a new light. Most of these place-holders owe their positions to the Republican State organizations as at present constituted, and for this reason the Woodruff-Barnes combination claimed today that they had the support of twenty of the thirty-eight members of the State committee.

President Griscum, of the New York Republican county committee, who talked with Senator Root on Sunday, and later on with Chairman Woodruff and William Barnes, Jr., issued this statement today: "As a fundamental principle of good organization I believe that it is the duty of the organization throughout the State to uphold the hands of Senator Cobb as the regular leader of the Republicans in the senate. I have no personal interest in the senate. I have no personal interest in giving to him to redeem the excellent promises he has made in his speeches."

DISCUSSES NAVAL SURGERY.

First Medical Officer in Command of War Ship Speaks of Progress.

"The care of the sick in the navy" was the subject of an address by Surgeon Gen. Charles F. Stokes, U. S. N., before the monthly meeting of the Men's Club of Christ Church, Georgetown, held in Potomac Savings Bank hall last night. Dr. Stokes compared the naval hospital equipment of twenty years ago to its present high state of efficiency, with special reference to the part it played in the recent memorable trip of sixteen battle ships around Cape Horn.

"That cruise itself," said Dr. Stokes, "was nothing short of marvelous, considering the close formation of sixteen huge steel monsters, steaming in line ahead at the rate of twelve knots per hour."

Dr. Stokes was the commanding officer of the hospital ship Relief, being the first medical officer in the history of the world's navies having full charge of a vessel.

The club was organized over five years ago, and having as its object the promotion of the social well-being of its members, has been a source of considerable pleasure to the parish of Christ Church. Its officers are: George A. King, president; Capt. E. A. Kessler, vice president; Charles E. Cheyne, secretary; W. H. Munson, treasurer, and Dr. A. B. Bennett, chairman entertainment committee.

GIVES UP AMERICA.

Walter Phelps Dodge Will Make Home in London.

New York, March 15.—Walter Phelps Dodge, millionaire lawyer, clubman, and anglophile, who, on January 4, in London, married Helen Steck, would-be actress and daughter of E. M. Steck, a Pennsylvania coal millionaire, is to emigrate to England with his wife and children. William Waldorf Astor and his wife, Mrs. Astor, will accompany them to London. He came back to the United States to try to reconcile his family to his marriage and to bring about friendly relations between them and his wife's people, but he is said to have failed absolutely.

Not one of his relatives, it is understood, will consent to receive either Mrs. Dodge, her mother, Mrs. Steck, or her sister, Mrs. Edna Croton.

Wherever, Mr. Dodge, "disgusted with and loathing," to use his own words, America, and the Americans, will return to England, where he will resume his law practice and live on the estate which he recently purchased at Maidenhead for $55,000.

New York State Leaders Confer on Party Shake-up.

FINAL ATTITUDE UNSETTLED

Congressional Delegation Split on Proposal to Make Fight on Timothy L. Woodruff's Incumbency as Chairman of State Committee. His Voluntary Retirement Argued.

New York State leaders are being summoned to Washington to consult with Senator Root and other members of the New York State delegation in Congress in regard to the party crisis in the State. Postmaster Fred Greiner, of Buffalo; Collector John A. Merritt, of Niagara Falls, and State Committeeman W. H. Daniels, of the Thirtieth district were the first to arrive. They had a long talk with Senator Root and late yesterday afternoon Mr. Greiner and State Committeeman Daniels left for New York.

The visit was the first step in Senator Root's programme to ascertain the exact sentiment of the State in reference to a reorganization of the party machine. It is impossible to say now just what the final attitude of the delegation in Congress will be toward the proposal to make a fight upon Timothy L. Woodruff's incumbency as chairman of the State committee.

Difference of Views.

While the delegation is practically unanimous that Mr. Woodruff cannot serve as party manager in the next campaign, there is a difference of views as to whether it is practicable to attempt to force his retirement before the September meeting of the State committee. It is understood three members of the Congressional delegation are openly opposed to a fight. They argue that it would be much better for the party to allow Mr. Woodruff to retire voluntarily.

Other members of the Federal group are urging an immediate attempt on the part of Senator Root to obtain the signatures of twenty members of the State committee for a special meeting of the committee to oust Mr. Woodruff.

Mr. Root will take no definite action until he is satisfied what the sentiment of the people of the State is. He has been assured by members of the Congressional delegation that he would have the support of a majority of the State committee if it came to a showdown.

It was said on good authority after Senator Root's interview with Mr. Greiner that he was inclined to support Mr. Root's views that there should be a reorganization of the party machine. Mr. Daniels, it was also said, was inclined to favor the view of the majority of the Federal Republicans.

NABUCO FUNERAL TO-DAY.
Ambassador's Body Will Be Taken to Hampton Roads on Mayflower.

The removal of the body of Ambassador Joaquin Nabuco from the vault of Oak Hill Cemetery to the United States armored cruiser North Carolina will be attended with military and civic honors befitting the rank of the deceased.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock, under escort of a troop of cavalry from Fort Myer, the body will be placed upon the navy yard, where it will be placed upon the President's yacht Mayflower, for transfer to the North Carolina, now anchored in Hampton Roads awaiting its coming.

A guard of honor consisting of members of the diplomatic corps and representatives of the United States government will accompany from this city to the North Carolina, while one of the secretaries of the Brazilian Embassy, E. L. Cherment, will be a passenger on the North Carolina, accompanying the body as the way to Rio de Janeiro.

The Brazilian battle ship Minas Geraes, which was ordered from European waters for the purpose, will act as escort to the funeral ship.

Negro Woman Drowned.
Dragging for a lost anchor at a dock at the foot of Ninth street, Charles Hodges, a boatman of the Capital Yacht Club, fished up the body of an unknown negro woman. The body had evidently been in the water for days. It was taken to the morgue, unidentified.

ASKS WRIT FOR PACKERS.

Garven to Extradite Those Indicted in New Jersey.

New York, March 15.—Prosecutor P. P. Garven announced today that he made formal application to Gov. Fort, in Trenton, on Monday for requisition papers, asking Gov. Deneen, of Illinois, to allow the extradition to New Jersey of Lemuel B. Patterson, one of the indicted beef packers.

"If the governor grants the requisition," said the prosecutor, "he will send the papers to me. I expect to hear from him to-morrow."

Mr. Garven predicted that something of interest in the packers' cases would turn up both in Trenton and in Jersey City to-morrow, but he declined to tell what that something might be.

Former State Senator William D. Edwards, of counsel for the indicted directors and corporations, said that he would go to Trenton to-morrow to apply for a writ of certiorari to move the Supreme Court to review the decision of Supreme Court Justice Swayze that the National Packing Company, Swift & Co., Armour & Co., and Morris & Co. must produce in New Jersey the minutes of their directors and stockholders' meetings for inspection by the Hudson County grand jury in its cold storage investigation. Mr. Edwards said that Mr. Patterson proposes to go to Jersey City to plead.

LAUGHLIN WILL FILED.

Leaves Most of Estate Worth Nearly $2,000,000 to Widow.

Pittsburg, March 15.—The will of Thomas K. Laughlin, the steel magnate, and brother-in-law of President Taft, who committed suicide by shooting himself in the head last Thursday, was filed today.

It disposes of an estate valued at $1,400,000 in personal property, and $100,000 in real estate. The instrument bequeaths all personal effects to his widow, Lucy H. Laughlin, including the Woodland road home and furnishings, automobiles, books, and valuable paintings, as well as $100,000 in cash. Dr. Thomas M. P. McKenna, cousin and attending physician to the late Mr. Laughlin, receives $2500. A sword, left by Mr. Laughlin's father and carried by him through the civil war with some personal jewelry, is left in trust to the Laughlin children.

The residue of the estate is to be held in trust until the youngest surviving child reaches twenty-seven years of age, when it shall be divided share and share alike between the wife and the children.

The will appoints the wife as sole executrix of the estate without bond, as trustees, and was executed in February, 1909, with W. C. Moreland and Willis L. King, attorneys, as witnesses.
